South Park Plans Proceed

Playground Seen For Colma School Area . . . Cost Estimates Called

Cost estimates for developing a playground at the new Colma School are soon to be made by Architect Mario Ciampi.

This is the first step taken in joint action by the Jefferson Elementary School Board and Daly City Recreation Commission to secure a playground for the southern section of Daly City.

Plans for the new playground were discussed at the regular meeting of the school board last Thursday evening.

The development of the site will require:

1. Paving of a section of the area around the Colma school, and grading a larger area for a playground. Early estimates place this cost at about $6,000. . . the majority of which would be born by Daly City from the $101,000 parks bond issue passed two years ago.

2. In order for the city to spend the money, it first will be necessary to bring the Colma School into Daly City. Plans for the annexation are now underway.

Original plans had called for a separate park in the southern section, but to save money the school board and the city agreed a playground at the new school would be more feasible.

Verbatim Out

In other action taken Thursday evening, the board finally agreed that henceforth it would not be necessary to take minutes verbatim. This was a hotly contested issue at the time of James Snell's resignation from his job as Superintendent. Mrs. Helen Cheatham had held out for the verbatim procedure, while Mike Callan and Andrew VanderWerff had requested the minutes be taken in the old manner.

The board also went on record favoring full time principalships for all the schools . . . at least those whose size warrant such supervision. Preference for the job will be given teachers with the required administrative credentials and other necessary requirements.

Enrollment Up

And it appears that more principals will be needed, as Superintendent H. Z. Weibel reported the present enrollment for the district as 2,957 students. Of these, 560 are kindergarten children.

The present enrollment at the various schools, some of which are on double sessions, include: Crocker, 739; Garden Village, 530; Woodrow, 589; Thornton, 186; Jefferson, 519; General Pershing, 394.

To meet the increased enrollment new teachers are needed. At the meeting Thursday contracts were signed for the following teachers: Mrs. Dorothy Miller, 6th grade; Mrs. Ione Farmer, 5th grade; David Thatcher, 7th grade; Stephen Locke, 7th grade.

More Business

Other business of the board included:

1. A discussion of inaugurating a system of civil service for classified district employees. A more complete report on the plan will be presented at a later date.

2. Estimates for the construction of a concrete stairwell at Crocker School were considered, but not action was taken pending a review of the remodeling by the school architect.

3. Development of the Garden Village and Westlake play areas was discussed, and plans made to proceed with their early development.

4. Authorization was given for (Continued on Page 2)

Local Robbery Fails When "Victim" Gives Out With A Loud Scream

Screams of his intended victim frightened a hold-up man out of O'Brien's Clothing Store, 6201 Mission street, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. James O'Brien, wife of the owner, was alone in the store when a man entered and asked to see some socks in size nine or ten. He made his choice of this merchandise and then paid for it with a one dollar bill.

When Mrs. O'Brien opened the cash register for change, her customer whipped out a small black hand gun and demanded she leave the cash drawer open. Instead, his intended victim fled out onto the street screaming, and the man ran away without taking any of the money in the cash register.

The suspect ran east on Crocker street and then north on Irvington. Although Daly City police searched the entire neighborhood on Mission street clear to the San Francisco county line, they could find no trace of him.

He is described as being between 25 and 30 years of age, five feet 10 inches in height, weighing 160 pounds, of slender build, clean shaven, fair complexion. He was wearing a battered light grey felt hat, a dark suit and work shoes.

Safety Check

Many Are Stopped But Few Cited

Approximately 700 motorists were stopped at a roadblock here last Friday night by local police, in cooperation with a traffic safety drive check.

The roadblock was manned by Patrolmen Henry Sundermann and John VanOtten on the east side of Mission Street between Vista Grande and Alp. Patrolman Sundermann was in charge.

The campaign, held in nine Bay Area counties, is under the supervision of the Bay Area Traffic Executive Council. Purpose of the roadblocks is to clear the highways of drunk drivers and faulty cars.

DROWNING VICTIM'S BODY FOUND AT BEACH

Death by drowning was the verdict of Coroner William Crosby today in a case which earlier promised to be a possible murder.

The victim was Mrs. Betsy Mary Paulsen, 510 Baker Street, San Francisco. Her body was found near Mussel Rock last Saturday.

She died from drowning two days before her body was found, Crosby said. Officials have dismissed any belief that her death was other than accidental.

Her body was found through the efforts of her small brown bulldog who led two fishermen, P. A. Dawes and Gregory Nasarenko both of Alameda to where she lay partly submerged in the sea. An amnesia victim, she had disappeared from the home which she shared with a daughter, Meda Paulsen, on Thursday.

Funeral services were held Monday from the W. C. Lasswell & Company chapel, after which the remains were sent to Pocatello, Idaho, for burial.

Condemnation proceedings to seize and sell the car from which the marijuana was taken have been started by state narcotics officials.

The three adults will be arraigned in San Francisco this week, while the 17-year-old girl has been turned over to juvenile authorities.

A tip-off from the underworld made the arrest possible, police said.

Evening Stroll Ends In Death For Retired Daly City Tile-Setter

An 80-year-old Daly City retired tile-setter was killed instantly Wednesday evening when he was struck by a car on Junipero Serra Boulevard, near San Pedro Road.

Dead is: Defendente Guglielmetti, 80, 193 Los Olivos Avenue. He had been a resident of Daly City for the past four months and was living with Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Giltner at their home.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS MONDAY

Matters of importance to every resident will be discussed at the regular meeting of the Daly City council, Monday evening, 8 o'clock, at City Hall.

The public is urged to attend these vital council meetings.

Westlake Home Winner Decides To Take Cash

Lt. Colonel Back Ma, first prize winner in the Saints and Sinners Milk Fund contest, will accept cash in lieu of the $25,000 Westlake home, he said today.

Col. Ma will receive in cash, the amount that it cost the Saint and Sinners to purchase the home.

The Colonel is in the Chinese Nationalist Army and adjutant to General Ma Hung-kwei, one of the great figures of Chinese history.

General Ma, once Governor of Nigisa province, is head of the Ma family which at one time controlled Inner Mongolia.

The last major warrior to hold out against the communists, he escaped with Lt. Colonel Ma to Formosa and later came to San Francisco for medical treatment.

The lucky Saint and Sinners winner lives at 1926 Lake Street with the general and the general's son.

Ma came from Shantung province and is no relation to the general. He joined Hung-kwei's private army ten years ago as a cavalry officer.

Mrs. A. DeLee won the second prize, a Cadillac, in the contest.

The driver of the death car was Pvt. Leland A. Briner, 22, Camp Roberts. He is a resident of Sacramento, and now attached with the Ninth Armored Division.

Pvt. Briner told highway patrolmen that he was going south on Junipero Serra at 6:15 p.m., at about 35 miles an hour when the figure of Guglielmetti "suddenly appeared in front of my car."

The driver slammed on his brakes, but too late to miss Guglielmetti, whose body was thrown 32 feet in front of Pvt. Briner's car.

Officers report the deceased was dressed completely in black and made it a habit each evening to cross Junipero Serra Boulevard on his regular nightly strolls.

Rushed to Junipero Serra hospital, Guglielmetti was pronounced dead on arrival.

Pending further investigation of the accident, Pvt. Briner has not been cited by police.

Guglielmetti is survived by his widow, Mrs. Katie Guglielmetti.

Funeral services for Guglielmetti will be held from the Halsted & Co. funeral parlors Saturday morning. Interment will be at Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

Pooch Bites Man For Second Time Saturday

If a certain black and white dog who lives at 38 Los Olivos has a memory for faces then he must have a grudge against Mr. McLeod, 144 Los Olivos. Otherwise why would he have bitten him on two different occasions?

Saturday, Mr. McLeod reported to Daly City police that on his way home he had been nipped by this same pooch for a second time.

Wheelbarrow Blues

They Lost - He Pushed

In the future, before Stan Valigora, of the Day Construction Co., makes any bets he will give the situation some serious thought.

Valigora, over-confident that the Chicago White Sox would win the 1951 American league pennant, made a bet with Rico Bertini, bartender at Vince and Freds, offering Rico the seven remaining teams in the American league while he took the white Sox to win the pennant.

The outcome was disastrous for Valigora, not in monetary value, but physically.

The loser was to push the victor in a wheelbarrow from the county line at Sikes and Mission to the top of the hill in Daly City.

Sunday, September 30, at 2:30 p.m., the payoff materialized. While Bertini sat victoriously in the decorated wheelbarrow, Valigora pushed and strained to reach the top of the hill.

The half-mile trek was halted once, when Valigora pulled over to a gas station to put air in the (Continued on Page 2)

"It was rough," stated Valigora. "I was puffing all the way, especially in the stretch." The journey completed, Valigora took over the seat in the wheelbarrow to regain his breath, with Bertini and the spectators satisfied.

The White Sox lost the pennant by 17 games.

Who can resist taking a few chances at breaking a balloon with a dart or trying to get a nice wiggly goldfish by the simple means (not as simple as it looks) of throwing a ping-pong ball in a glass bowl.

The children's concessions, which will be held in the old schoolrooms directly behind the church, will open at 7:00 Friday night, 6:30 Saturday night and 1:30 Sunday afternoon.

The following ladies will staff the concessions in the Kiddie Korner:

Darts and Balloons: Anna Mae Cordellas and Sue Hopman.

Goldfish bowls: Myrtle Hathaway and Charlotte Gonzales.

Fishpond: Theresa Collins and Marie Krystofiak.

Another new booth has been added to those already announced. This is the Doll Booth, which will have as chairmen Mrs. Janet Fellman and Mrs. Catherine Ricci. Mrs. Josephine Lamendola, Chairman of the Grocery Booth, extends an invitation to all to come to the Grocery Booth, and meet Madam X the mystery gal of the Country Fair. All customers at the Grocery Booth will have an opportunity to participate in a thrilling contest to name this pretty young chicken.

Others on the program, in which the role of block wardens was discussed, were, Deputy Director Orville R. Caldwell and Brig. Gen. W. R. Woodward, Assistant Director in charge of the warden service.

General Robertson's warning followed a statement by Caldwell that England might have been defeated but for the effectiveness of its Civil Defense preparations.

Japan's and Germany's air raid losses, he added, would have been materially reduced by adequate Civil Defense.

Reflection
"As one reflects the terrible punishment that was meted out to the English people in the nightly blitz of London by German bombers," Caldwell said, "it is understandable that England might have been defeated had she not planned and organized her Civil Defense four years before the state of the conflict."

Asked whether he thought California might have four years to get ready for an enemy attack, General Robertson replied:

"I do not!"

"I think we have just as much time as Russia chooses to permit and no more. How much time that may be I doubt if any one can say. That's why I continue to stress the point that the threat of an attack on our cities is very real."

"By moving rapidly to perfect our Civil Defense organization in California we may—with rare good luck—be conditioned to weather such an attack."

General Robertson and his aides stressed throughout the broadcast that the Warden Service is the core of the Civil Defense program.

Major Phase
"He is the most important cog in the recruiting machinery," he declared. "The block warden, by reason of his close contact with his immediate friends and neighbors in the block, will know of the qualifications of all persons living in the block. He will know who is best qualified to take a first aid training course. He will know those who are physically equipped to take part as members of rescue teams. He will know who would be best to take the training course to become an auxiliary fireman."

The major phases of a block warden's responsibility are, General Robertson said:

"To save lives first and property next. Before an emergency—organizing and advising. During an emergency—to direct people to places of safety. After the emergency—to take the lead in restoring order and forestalling panic."

Next week's broadcast will be concerned with Civil Defense emergency fire services.

TWO CLUES OFFERED
The ammeter and the motor heat indicator combine to tell the car owner when the fan belt is broken on a car on which the generator is driven by the belt, points out the National Automobile Club. The former shows discharge while the latter registers a higher temperature. Checking one against the other provides a quick clue to trouble.

CARBURETOR EXPLAINED
Car owners who never have been able to understand the principle of a carburetor need look no further for a perfect illustration of its operation than the atomizer, declares the National Automobile Club. A glance at an atomizer will show that squeezing the rubber ball forces air through a small nozzle located over a smaller tube or jet passing down to the liquid. The rush of air over the top of the jet or tube causes the liquid to rise as a fine spray. The carburetor works quite the same way with the exception, of course, that the column of air is provided automatically.

Block Warden Is Most Important Man In Local Civilian Defense

Unlike England prior to World War II, the United States may not have four years to prepare its Civil Defense against an air attack.

This was the warning sounded (Monday, October 1, 1951) by Maj. Gen. Walter M. Robertson, State Director of Civil Defense, during the weekly state-wide broadcast presented by his Sacramento office.

Others on the program, in which the role of block wardens was discussed, were, Deputy Director Orville R. Caldwell and Brig. Gen. W. R. Woodward, Assistant Director in charge of the warden service.

Dyer and Wife Struck By Car

Mr. Bob Dyer, Twin City Cleaners, was reported doing well today following an unusual accident last Saturday night on the Skyline Blvd. in which he suffered a broken leg.

According to Mrs. Lillian Dyer, who was also in the accident with her husband, they had stopped on the Skyline while returning to Daly City from Sharp Park to assist a motorist whose car was stalled in a ditch alongside the highway.

Using his tow chain, Dyer helped get the car on the highway. While he and his wife were putting the chain in trunk of his auto, they were struck from behind by a passing car.

Mrs. Dyer was knocked unconscious and Mr. Dyer's leg was broken. They were both treated for shock at South San Francisco hospital, with Mrs. Dyer suffering no serious injury.

The driver of the automobile was unidentified according to Mrs. Dyer.

Dyer is in South San Francisco hospital.

Conference On Age Problems Set

(CNS)—Additional plans for the state-wide conference called by Governor Earl Warren to consider problems of the aging which will be held in Sacramento October 15 and 16, were announced last week by Adrien J. Falk, San Francisco, who is chairman of the conference.

A total of 4,000 persons have been invited to attend the meeting, the governor's office announced, covering virtually every field of endeavor in California.

"A primary objective of the conference," Falk said, "is to obtain the thinking and experience of laymen from all parts of the state. Section meetings will be of the town hall type, and all who attend will be urged to contribute to the work of the group."

One of the main objectives of the meeting, said Falk, is to identify ways of providing expanded employment opportunities for older workers, which is highly significant at the present time because of the expanding national defense program and an increasing manpower shortage.

The division on employment opportunities will comprise sections on jobs for older workers, achieving continued employment, and will also discuss present barriers to the employment of the older group.

SQUEALING TIRES
When automobile tires squeal on curves, excessive speed may be the cause rather than under-inflation. Good drivers reduce their speed before reaching a curve, then accelerate the car gradually through the curve, says the California State automobile Association. This procedure prevents tire squeal and provides better control over the car.

Red Cross Needs Knitting Yarn

The San Mateo County Red Cross Chapter is urgently in need of more knitting yarn, according to Mrs. W. M. Bartosch, Production chairman.

"Any amount of yarn, no matter how large or how small or what color will be welcome," Mrs. Bartosch said. Afghans made from the yarn by volunteers are given by Red Cross to hospitalized veterans who are due for long convalescences. With casualties since outbreak of the Korean war past 83,000, more and more wounded servicemen are patients in veterans hospitals.

According to Captain Jobe, surgeon in Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco, a Red Cross afghan is a wounded man's most prized possession. It is the first thing he reaches for when moved from one ward to another. Yarn may be brought or mailed to the American Red Cross, 1449 Bellevue Ave., Burlingame.

Community Chest Your Donations To The Red Feather Drive Will Assist Fifteen Agencies

As the campaign to raise funds for the 15 agencies of the Community Chest of San Mateo County approaches, County Campaign Chairman J. Neil Hanson today pointed out that this is now a big operation with a total county goal of $361,250.00 and 15 agencies, compared with a total goal of $66,472.00 and 6 agencies in 1943.

If the more than 10,000 Boy Scouts, about the same number of girls in three Girl Scout Councils, the 25 kiddies at the Children's Health Home, the full operation of the San Mateo County Blood Bank, the thousands of young people in two branches of the YMCA, the more than 11,000 home calls on the sick in their homes by the Visiting Nurses Association, the hundreds of family problems solved each year by the Family Service Agency, the many, many adoption cases, unwed mothers and other problems solved daily by the Catholic Social Service, the hundreds of young people and adults alike who receive services of the Peninsula Jewish Community Service, the relief cases handled by the Community Chest of South San Francisco and the facilities continued by the Woodside Recreation and Youth Activities Committee are to continue full operation, and maintain service to the citizens of San Mateo County, then the full amount of the goal must be reached, said Hanson.

The leadership and training offered by the youth groups in the Chest is unquestionably keeping all communities in the county better places to live and raise families. The many other services being performed every day of the year by the other agencies likewise assist in filling the gap for services so necessary to men and women to whom, at the time, it is possibly the most important thing in their lives.

Hanson went on to say that the goal set for this month's campaign, opening October 14, is a realistic one; it was not just picked out of thin air. Each one of the 15 agencies is operated by a separate board of directors and after each has prepared their own budget it is submitted to the Chest's Budget and Admissions Committee, headed by John Bromfield, who extensively studied each one and then for a period of three weeks sat in session with agency officials discussing every item of expense in their budget. When Bromfield's committee completed their work, the Chest's Board of Directors went over each and every request.

One thing that must not be overlooked by the citizens of San Mateo County is that the population has doubled in the past ten years, and the needs are becoming greater every year for Red Feather Services in San Mateo County.

Retirement Kills More People Than Hard Work... It Says Here

Retirement kills more persons than does hard work. And one of the major reasons for so much physical and mental illness among older people is the frustration which idleness causes.

Dr. Frank F. Tallman, director of the state Department of Mental Hygiene, so commented today in citing the significance of attention which the Governor's Conference on the Problems of the Aging will devote to the mental health of older folk. The topic will be studied by a principal division of the conference when it convenes in Sacramento October 15 and 16.

"Experience shows," Dr. Tallman said, "that older persons who remain actively productive and participating in a social life have relatively few physical or mental health problems."

"As a matter of fact," he said, "no person should be retired in the sense that retirement means total or almost-total inactivity. When a person retires from employment, this retirement should be a transition to some other purposeful activity commensurate with his physical capacities."

"A man spends a long life working and producing. Then one day, for no other reason than because of the flip of a calendar page, he is told he no longer may continue doing what he did the day before. Unused skills and muscles deteriorate. And unless there is an intelligent substitution of other activity, decline can be rapid."

Dr. Tallman said a number of larger corporations have developed pre-retirement plans for guiding employees as they approach retirement age. But, he said, not nearly enough is being done and there is vital need for expansion of such programs.

"The Conference on the Problems of the Aging will give people from all over California opportunity to discuss the problems of retirement, as well as other problems and needs of our senior citizens. Out of these discussions can come a program of activity which will banish two of the great disrupters of contentment in the later years—loneliness and frustration," Dr. Tallman said.

DUBINS STORE MAY BE OUT $40

L. Dubins of Dubins Men's and Boys' Store, 6274 Mission street, may or may not be out $40 as the result of having cashed two $20 travelers checks on September 16, issued by the National City Bank of New York.

Wednesday, Dubins notified Daly City police that the eastern bank had returned the checks reporting them as having been either lost or stolen. Dubins had originally cashed them for two unknown customers.

The local merchant was instructed by a Daly City banker to write to the New York bank and explain the entire transaction and that thereby the bank through its policy of insuring the amount of its travelers checks may refund his $40.

small boy had strolled out of the house and was missing. About an hour later at approximately 5:30 p.m., a bartender from a local bar contacted officers with the news that a child had wandered into that establishment.

When officer Linhares went to the bar he discovered that the lost and found children were one and the same and took Mendez home.

THERE IS PLENTY OF GARDENING TO BE DONE NOW THAT MR. AND MRS. CHARLES B. HERRAN HAVE TAKEN UP RESIDENCE AT A NEW HOME, 70 BEPLER STREET. MR. HERRAN IS PAST PRESIDENT OF PRESIDIO PARLOR 194 OF NATIVE SONS OF THE GOLDEN WEST.

YOUR GIRL SCOUT NEIGHBORHOOD CHAIRMAN REPORTS

After the wonderful turn out at the last neighborhood meeting of Girl Scout personnel in the spring, the meeting Thursday, September 27, was a definite disappointment.

It was not the fault, however, of anyone connected with scouting, but rather negligence on the part of the postoffice department. Thirty cards were typed, addressed and put in the mail box Sunday. At the time of the meeting, Thursday morning, the cards had simply not been delivered. A complaint has been lodged with the main postoffice, and it is hoped this will not happen again.

Key people, who had been contacted by phone, were present, though, so it was possible to get the troops organized and started on their programs. Quality of leadership this year seems to be excellent, and we are looking forward together to an interesting year. You will be kept informed through this column, from time to time, what is being done, and what we have to look forward to.

Please Call

Perhaps some of you parents who have girls of Scout or Brownie age would like to see them in a troop. If so, please call your organization chairman, Mrs. Marge Calvin, DE 3-6644, or your neighborhood chairman, Mrs. E. K. Whinnen, JU 4-6988, and we will talk it over with you to see which troop would be most suitable for your child, and what you wish to contribute to helping the troop succeed.

In this respect I wish to say that the names and addresses of ten new families in this area were put on our mailing list, through The Record's "Welcome to Daly City" column. I feel that this is a real service, both to the new people who move into Daly City and wish to make friends, and to the organizations who wish to make friends with them. May I extend "Thanks" to The Record for this service to the community.

Party
A council wide farewell party was held for Miss Carolyn Passoneau, professional worker on the Council staff, at the Parkview Scout House, the night of September 25th. Miss Passoneau, or Carolyn, as she is usually called, worked with the Girl Scouts in a professional capacity for three years, her last year being as field worker with troops and leaders.

As all really good personnel do, she gave much more to her work than was called for in the book. She gave of her time, her warmth, sincerity and good cheer, and made a place of her own in our hearts as well as in our work. Parliamentary rules were not needed when Carolyn conducted a meeting. It immediately became an easy, friendly gathering, which partook of the qualities of her own personality.

In appreciation of knowing and working with her, the Council staff and neighborhoods presented Miss Passoneau with the Girl Scout "Thanks" badge, one of the highest honors a worker may receive. Carolyn is the first recipient of the "Thanks" badge in the Daly City-Colma Girl Scout Council.

Badge Given

Mrs. Hilda Heagney, president of the council, pinned the badge on Carolyn, after she and other leaders, including Mrs. Heagney, had been presented with beautiful begonia corsages, made by Mrs. Dorothy Kargner, from blossoms in her own well known begonia garden.

Others presented with corsages were: Mrs. Frances Windhurst, first vice-president of the council, Mrs. R. L. Crane, established camp chairman, and Mrs. Sacramento, scholarship student at the Audubon Nature School, in the high Sierras. Mrs. Sacramento showed colored moving pictures of activities and entertainments of students at the school for the pleasure of the guests.

After the pictures were shown, a large sheet cake with the inscription, "Best Wishes and Good Luck, to Carolyn," was served with coffee, to the merry accompaniment of friendly chatter.

"Thank You," also is extended to Mr. Frank Lombardi, who lent his very fine screen for the showing of the pictures.

Westlake Group Discusses Rules

Chief concern of the Westlake Architectural Committee and the Board of Trustees at their monthly meeting last Monday was the infraction of rules by members of the tract.

The members discussed methods of aiding and informing Westlake residents on infractions of rules established by the architectural committee, and how to avoid them in the future.

Chairman of the Architectural committee is Marty O'Connor.

NEWS FROM THE SCHOOLS

CROCKER SCHOOL

The members of Room 4 are busy reviewing Fifth Grade fundamentals in arithmetic.

The first week they reviewed addition, subtraction, and multiplication. The second week they worked on division and fractions. New work this semester in arithmetic will involve fractions and an introduction to decimals.

Many people find they need to "brush up" their multiplication tables and addition and subtraction combinations before they can go ahead with new work.

The Sixth Grade in Room 5 is studying the Pan-American countries. They are learning why we have been good neighbors and hope we will always remain so.

Room 1

The sixth grade children in Room 1 have been very busy working on their science table.

On the table they now have a turtle, a snake, rattlesnake, a rattlesnake, shells (from our coast), specimens in jars of three kinds of crabs, a sea anemone, and some coral.

Room 2

The students in Room 2 welcomed three new children to their class this term. Maurice Bradshaw and Loreta Lenzini came from San Francisco and Theodore Manzanera from Colorado.

Room 3

Everyone in Room 3 is now interested in our study of plants. We have learned why some plants are weeds. Linda O'Brien is chairman of the Plant Committee. The other students are bringing plants and seeds which Linda will arrange on the science table. Mike Wells brought a large box to be used as a table.

Creative Writing Class Offered

An evening class in creative writing, English and literature will be opened for adult registration at the South San Francisco High School Tuesday night, October 9, between 7 and 9 o'clock.

As outlined by Joseph A. Pless, Director of Adult Education, the course will include review work in basic English according to the needs of the class and will then concentrate upon literary self-expression. As individual members become practiced in the writing forms in which they are interested, special studies will consider the outstanding works and writers in each form.

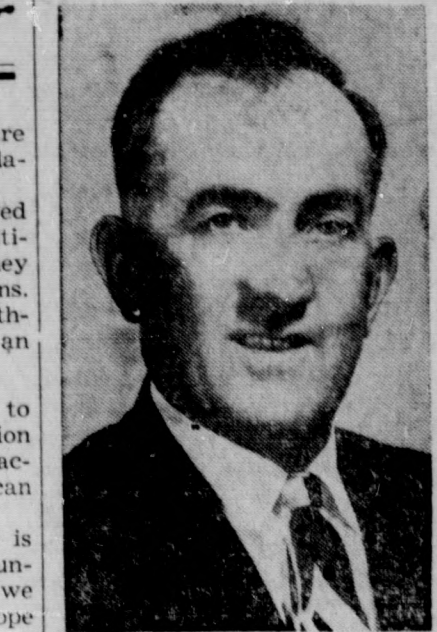

The class will be conducted by Ben Stefens, instructor of English and Journalism and graduate of the Universities of Missouri and California.

LOCAL EAGLES TO HONOR FIRE DEPARTMENTS

In addition, the program will include a class initiation, an address by Chief Kennedy, and a movie on fire prevention.

This will be Brother Corsiglia's official visit to the Colma-Vista Grande Aerie.

Cub Scout Pack 63 Assists Lions Club

Cub Scout Pack 63 will assist the Daly City-Colma Lions Club in the gathering of clothes, toys, and food for the needy.

The articles will be distributed at Christmas time by the Lions club.

Each cub scout has been asked to bring a can of food to the weekly meetings.

The first pack meeting following the summer vacation was held Friday night September 28, at Bellevue Hall. A party and games highlighted the evening.

Two new Den Mothers, Mrs. Joe Bradshaw and Mrs. Merrill were appointed. Mrs. Merrill takes over Den 3, which was vacated by Mrs. Virginia Clintock because of illness. Mrs. Bradshaw will handle the new Den 5.

Also, five boys joined the Pack. They are: James Caruso, Allan Cunningham, Thomas McEntee, Roger Edinger, and Jimmy Bradshaw.

New Assistant D.A. Appointed

Keith Sorenson, 30 year old member of the county legal staff, took over the duties of assistant district attorney Monday, October 1.

Sorenson's appointment to the position vacated by John Bruning, who was named county recorder, was announced Monday morning by District Attorney Louis B. Dematteis.

The young attorney, who joined the county's legal staff two years ago, takes over the top assignment in the civil department.

Sorenson, who lives at 57 West Summit drive, Redwood City, has a wife Maxine; a daughter, Ann, 7, and a son, Tommy, 4.

He served as a navy officer during World War II after which he received his law degree from the University of Utah in 1947.

Prior to taking the California Bar examinations, he attended Stanford University for a short time.

Dematteis expects to announce the appointment in the near future of a deputy to replace Sorenson, another in the criminal department to replace Leo Englert, and criminal investigator.

Zone Chairman Guest Speaker

Richard Crane, Lion's Club zone chairman of the north section of the county, spoke on the by laws of the Lions Club at their weekly luncheon Wednesday, October 3. Seven members of the Brisbane branch were hosted at the affair. About 25 local members attended.

KATHLEEN NORRIS The First Step

THERE IS ALWAYS something you can do to satisfy your heart.

That restless, dissatisfied muscle that we call a heart, and to which we attribute so many emotions, pleasant, fearful, ashamed, glad, proud, can be handled intelligently just as teeth and eyes and nerves can be.

But you have to work on teeth and eyes, and you have to work on a heart. You have to think out what is wrong, and analyze it, and do something about it.

The First Step

To give you what you want, the work, the associations, the success, there is a first step, that you can take. Think out that first step; take it, and the way to the next step will be clear.

Don't fuss along in a complaining, bewildered, frustrated state, feeling helpless. Don't waste energy envying anyone; envy is a destructive poison. But think your way into something nearer to your ideal, and you will find that you have helped not only yourself, but other women everywhere. The women who help us are not the ones for whom life has been rosy all the way; without exception they are women who have known poverty or obscurity, doubt or weariness, or all of these.

"... coach this child..."

For instance, Anne Ryan, whose story I wrote here years ago, she was agonizing with worry over two sons, 14 and 12, who gave every sign of going wild, in one of our great cities. Anne borrowed money, not much, and bought a country place and took four or five other problem boys to board. The result of that is part of our national story of child guidance.

Then there was a woman named Betty Jay. To this woman had come the frightful sorrow of a defective child, the type of child they call Mongolian. There was an older child, vivid, brilliant, beautiful at 12. Betty Jay was almost mad with the agony of watching the growth of the two—the contrast between them.

The poor afflicted baby knew her, clung to her. A private institution was far beyond her means, and was far away, too. She could not give up little Kip; she could not save her friends, family, even his sister and father from the strain of seeing and being near him.

She moved to the neighborhood of a public institution. She volunteered for work in the wards there. This was in wartime; she was made warmly welcome. So she cared for her child, and scores of others, all day long, and at night she crossed the road to the little cottage where her daughter and husband were waiting for her. She is widowed now, the daughter married, but Kip lives on, and his mother sees him and cares for him still.

Financial Problem

Kathryn David's problem was financial. To solve it she did not indulge in any great flights of fancy about large sums of money that should turn the David's rich overnight. No, she began, almost accidentally, to earn 25 cents now and then, and the 25 cents added themselves together—into success.

Kathryn lived in a large country town; she had a boy and a girl who had trouble with homework. Hearing a neighbor complain of her own child's school rating, Kathryn offered to coach this child with her own, for 25 cents for an evening. This was 20 years ago.

The twelve children who almost at once somehow got into this class, naturally insured her $3 a night. Not much to start with, but Kathryn, grayheaded now, and a proud grandmother, is superintendent and president today of a great three-story school building where children who have difficulties with one type of work or another are graded and helped.

Of my "apron woman" I've written here before. This little English emigre was almost the first person who wrote me when I started these articles. She sent me a little girl's apron of light ticking, a sort of grown-up bib, with pockets. The washing it saved was beyond belief, and I wrote her that I thought there was a market for these aprons. She found it; a big market.

But of course most of the men and women who intelligently think of the first step out of the rut don't make fortunes, don't get talked about.

Delinquent Tax Collection To Net State A Million

(CNS)—Prospects for the total collection of approximately a million dollars from delinquent income taxpayers on the basis of collections already made this year were seen today by Thomas H. Kuchel, state controller, and chairman of the state franchise tax board.

Kuchel said a preliminary report from John J. Campbell, executive officer of the board, indicates a third of the demands for returns sent out earlier in the year have been checked, and already, collections of $347,895.79 in delinquent payments have been turned into the state treasury.

The controller said some time ago that approximately 100,000 Californians had failed to file returns. The board actually made demands for 99,239 returns from persons who should have filed and did not. As of August 31, the board had checked 31,811, or approximately a third of the delinquent returns, with the corresponding collections.

It is on the basis of these returns that Kuchel estimates a million dollar return to the state treasury when final check of the delinquencies is made.

Vet Affairs State Assists In Education

(CNS)—Extensive assistance to World War II veterans for educational purposes has been granted by the state this year, D. J. Callaghan, Jr., state director of veterans affairs, announced here today.

Callaghan said the state has given help to 7,561 veterans for continuation of their educational program, and enrollment in schools of the state which was 30 per cent higher than a year ago.

Total expenditure for the spring term, the department said, was $1,702,694, which was aid chiefly for tuition and fees, and for a $40 per month subsistence allowance.

The state educational aid roster has climbed steadily since World War II, and probably is approaching its peak. Callaghan said the state aid program would continue high for another year or two, as veterans exhaust entitlements to federal benefits.

The trend, he said, is an increasingly large number of students enrolled in advance professional schools.

To become eligible for state aid, a veteran must have been born in California, or have been a resident of the state at the time he entered military service, and have had at least 90 days active duty.

Some of the enrollment figures included: University of California at Berkeley, 1,065; Chico State, 54; Humboldt State, 21; San Jose State, 3991; Stanford, 360; Santa Clara, 55; and U.C. at Davis, 89.

Bedspreads Take On New Aids

By NANCY COOK-ANS

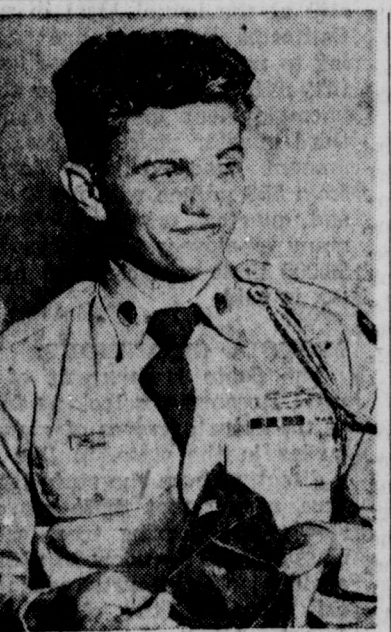

There's exciting news for homemakers in woven, cotton bedspreads that still retain their place in the modest price field, but have taken on the airs of their more expensive sisters. We're talking about some new woven cotton spreads that Cannon designers have taken out of the "den" and "children's bedroom - at-home-or-at-school" class, by skillfully creating decorator-type patterns, woven in unusual color combinations of the intense modern colors and soft, shaded "neutrals." The result is a wide choice of versatile (and washable) spreads—with draperies to match—that fit in with any decor.

In addition, these bedspreads have been correlated with Cannon colors in blankets, sheets and towels, for bedroom and bath ensembling.

"Tweed," pictured above, is an arresting decorator-type heather plaid that would enhance any room in town or country. It comes in a variety of tweedy backgrounds, in subtle combinations, with gold, green, aqua, flamingo or rose.

"Coquette" is a dainty pattern with a lace paper doily effect. Comes in rose, aqua or green. Shown here in a colonial set—unusual color combinations of the intense modern colors and soft, shaded "neutrals." The result is a wide choice of versatile (and washable) spreads—with draperies to match—that fit in with any decor.

"Regency," an aristocratic design for master bedroom or guest room. In vivid, clear colors—flamingo, cocoa brown, green or blue. Blends well with any type of home decoration.

Has Employment Placement Office

San Jose State College is now offering Bay Area employers the services of an enlarged placement office to assist them in hiring graduates trained for specific occupations.

A. the college begins its 94th year it announces the appointment of Dr. Vernon A. Ouellette as placement officer.

Dr. Ouellette will be in charge of the college employment office insofar as it deals with the part-time employment of students and the placement of graduates in non-teaching positions. Teacher placement will continue to be supervised by Miss Doris Robinson.

As San Jose State emphasizes vocational training in most of its departments, its graduates are qualified to accept employment in many fields. This is particularly true in commerce, journalism, engineering, industrial arts, police and in various phases of natural science. Many industrial concerns in the Bay Area have already found the college to be a source of trained employees.

Greater emphasis will now be placed on finding the job for which the graduate is best qualified. This will be accomplished by careful screening of job applicants and a better understanding of employment opportunities for San Jose State College graduates.

Two popular bands have been obtained to play both modern and western rhythms. Mildred Behler, Redwood City lass who has acquired a name for folk dance calling, will be on hand in the turf club section of Bay Meadows to "call 'em" for those who enjoy oldtime dancing. Mildred will be aided by "Side-Saddle Sam" Stern and his cowboy band.

In the larger clubhouse section of the race track, Bobby Anderson's 16-piece recording and radio orchestra will play for those who prefer modern tempos.

Anderson's band will have two girl vocalists, Dori Lynn, TV favorite and Jackie Stevens who has made appearance at the Edgewater ballroom in San Francisco. The Four Notes, a vocal quartet who have had a number of engagements in nightspots throughout the bay area plus The Three Hits from the Casa Blanca Hotel will also offer entertaining vocal arrangements.

Bobby Anderson, the talented young maestro who heads the 16-piece band, has just returned from a number of successful engagements in Eastern and Southern hotels.

James Allen, San Mateo police officer and chairman of this year's ball, said that a sell-out audience of 7,500 is expected at the dance.

IT'S ABOUT TIME THE "TEACHERS" GOT A BREAK

We learned this week the city has requested state safety engineers to coordinate the "wait" and "walk" signals on "top of the hill."

The request for such assistance was made several weeks ago. The city is still waiting for action.

Here is one case where no one is to blame but the state, or the officials employed by the state. We think it's high time they spent an hour out here to do a minor job of coordination which would make a major change in an otherwise pretty fair system.

It might also be a relief to the local police. Several officers have spent many long hours attempting to educate residents to the new system. They have worked well and diligently, and are to be congratulated for their interest.

However, the best of teachers can't explain why a man should "wait" when the signal turns green.

So for no other reason than to give the cops a break, we believe the state should regulate the system so it can be taught by local police, and equally understood by the "pupils."

PAPERWORK NEVER SAVED A LIFE

With San Mateo County generally, and Daly City specifically, named as a critical target area, we think it's about time more action was taken in civilian defense.

We've been "singing this song" for over a year now, and to-date have received little, or no response from city officials.

A year ago the mayor noted there was no need to become hysterical over civilian defense plans. He had a point . . . at the time. But in a year, what has the city done to insure a measure of safety for local residents in case of an enemy attack?

The answer to that question can be found in reams of paper work, but little more.

Paper, no matter how much, never saved a life.

We think it is more than past the time that concrete action should be taken to set up a civilian defense program here.

We believe a program should be established immediately for the training of district wardens and auxiliary policemen.

Immediate recruitment of volunteers for civilian defense work should begin immediately.

Funds should be set aside for the purchase of necessary civilian defense equipment—including an adequate air raid siren warning system similar to the kind San Francisco installed months ago. The one we now have in this area is entirely unsatisfactory.

These are but a few suggestions. There are many more, but we are not experts on the subject. This is a job which is squarely up to the city.

However, it is also a job which must be assumed by each and every resident. No matter how hard the city works to set up a civilian defense program, it will be to no avail if not supported by the citizens.

At any rate, let's have some action. It's a sure thing there is going to be plenty of action . . . all of the wrong kind . . . If this city or San Francisco is ever hit by a bomb.

POLITICS AND THE COMMUNITY CENTER

There seems to be some confusion these days between politics and the fate of the Community Center Building.

It is our belief that support for the second $180,000 bond issue, to complete the building, should not be confused with political issues.

The building, after all, stems from the needs of the community for a proper recreation site. It may figure in elections to the point of being a credit to this or that office seeker, but above that it is a credit to the common sense of the community. Residents saw the need for such a structure and voted money to build it. They would have done that regardless of what group of politicians happened to be in office.

Consequently, now that additional funds are needed to complete the building, this money should be raised by the popular support of the community as a whole . . . not by any particular group.

We are certain the only way a reasonable, civic-minded person will vote November 6 is "Yes." To vote "No" is to cast a ballot for regression; to admit defeat; to perpetuate a concrete shell of a memorial to the proposition that Daly City residents no longer care about recreation for themselves and their children.

No, this isn't the time for politics. This is the time for straight forward thinking. This is the time to support an issue of vital importance to every man, woman and child in Daly City.

We repeat, a "Yes" vote November 6 is the only vote.

THE BALL GAME AND DALY CITY

Excitement ran high in Daly City this week as the Giants upset the Dodgers.

It was the same throughout the nation as millions gathered before radios and TV sets to watch a game which has become a national institution.

All of which leads us to words of praise for those many business men on "top of the hill" and elsewhere in Daly City who set up radios to broadcast the games to all who would hear. We don't suppose this helped business (in fact, at one store a TV set probably discouraged customers), but it boosted our faith in the local merchants.

It is heartening to know many business men would rather lose a buck than lose out hearing the crucial ball games. Somehow we just can't imagine a situation like this in any other country but America.

MANY BROADMOOR RESIDENTS FAIL THE CUBS

A good many Broadmoor parents are failing the children of the community.

This is the opinion of members of Cub Pack No. 84 who have been collecting papers from Broadmoor homes over the past month. Money from these monthly paper drives is used by the cubs to purchase necessary equipment for their scouting work.

To assist the boys, Broadmoor residents are merely asked to gather together their excess papers and magazines and put them out on the front porch. The boys will do the rest.

Although numerous residents have taken heed of the drive—held the first Saturday of every month from 9 a.m. on—too many would rather burn their papers than take the time to make them available to the cubs.

We think this is a poor show of community spirit, especially when so little is asked for so much.

This Saturday, October 6, the cubs again go forth to gather papers. We hope more Broadmoor residents will do their bit to aid a worthy cause.

FIREMEN WON'T PUT THEMSELVES OUT OF WORK

With the observation here of Fire Prevention Week, we think it is a good time as any to pay tribute to local firemen.

Unfortunately, most residents meet the blaze busters only in time of an emergency. Little need be said how grateful, and suddenly aware these citizens are of our fine department. We know of no case in the long history of the fire department where members have failed to acquit themselves well in an emergency.

However, a more, possible important roll is being played next week by the hose hoisters under the direction of Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy. During that week they will try to put themselves out of a job.

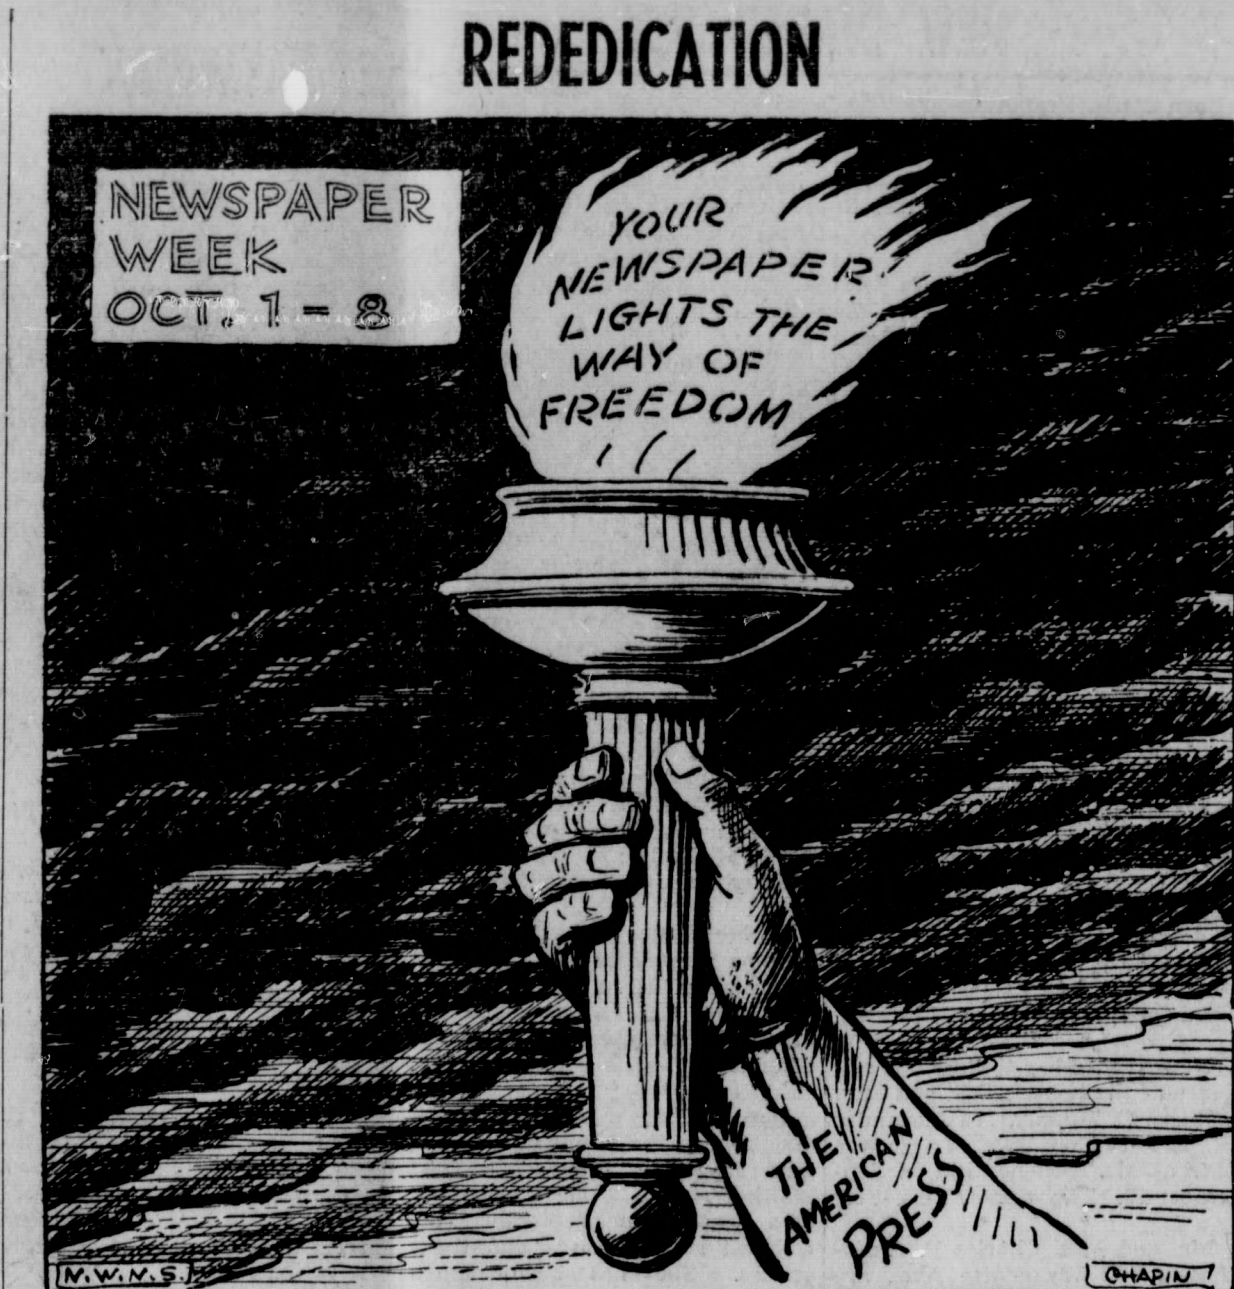

It is too bad that they won't entirely succeed. They would be the first to admit this. It is a certainly no matter how much is said about fire prevention, too many residents will pay no attention.

Were every citizen conscious of fire prevention during the year, the department could be cut down to a small staff prepared to meet only emergencies.

We don't have the figures handy, but if memory serves us correctly almost 90 per cent of the nation's fires (and Daly City is no exception) stem from lack of proper precaution.

Next week the local lads will attempt to cut down this percentage through days and evenings of hard work. We take our hats off for their effort, but we are skeptical enough to believe the boys won't succeed in putting themselves out of work . . . at least, not this year.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

by Henry C. MacArthur war for state employees to win their battle for a five-day, 40-hour week, but after a tenacious legislative fight, this week-end will see state offices throughout California closed on Saturdays, legally.

For a new law, which went into effect at midnight Saturday, September 22, permits all offices, except law enforcement and similar emergency agencies to work five days a week only.

With the ink hardly dry on the law, the state agencies, most of which have maintained only skeleton crews on Saturday mornings anyhow, announced plans for closing up the following Saturday, September 29.

The new law is permissive, and with but few exceptions, notably the secretary of state, state controller, appellate court, and secretary of state, which will keep skeleton crews on the job for the convenience of the public, most of the departments will lock the doors. These offices are constitutional, and of the appointive groups, corrections, personnel board, highway patrol and veterans affairs will also be open.

The battle of the state employees for a five-day week started back in 1940, when the nation was engaged in heavy defense preparations. The argument was used at that time that a five-day week would enable state employees to work week-ends in defense and agricultural work.

To Battle

While the employees did not win a complete battle at that time, they nevertheless did, at the 1941 session of the legislature, obtain permission to keep offices open on a "skeleton" basis. This practice rapidly resulted in the assignment of staff on Saturday mornings to the extent in some instances where the public could open the door of a state office and not even find the skeleton.

Consequently, over the ten year period, the people have become used to transacting business with the state on days other than Saturday, so passage of the 1951 bill legalizing closing was virtually a push-over.

An attempt was made at the legislative session of 1949 to accomplish the same purpose, but a lot of controversy arose, and the legislature followed its usual practice of dealing with controversial issue by referring the matter to the interim committee on governmental efficiency and economy.

Sub-Committee

Assemblyman A. I. Stewart, of Pasadena, who was chairman of this committee, referred the matter to a sub-committee, which was headed by Assemblyman John Moss, of Sacramento. It was almost a foregone conclusion as to what the Moss committee would recommend, for Moss comes from a district that is highly populated by state employees. The sub-committee never made a written report, but recommended verbally in a favorable manner on the Saturday morning closing.

When the measure came before the 1951 legislature, it was ably handled by Jim Phillips, attorney for the California State Employees Association. It was about that time that many Sacramento banks decided to close Saturday mornings, and Phillips used this step on the part of private business for what it was worth in getting the bill across.

"It is in line with the trend of the times," the attorney said.

Franchise Tax Board Activity

(CNS)—An indication that the payoff to the state treasury from the thorough checking of persons who failed to file state income tax returns is going to result in big dividends was seen in a report made to State Controller Thomas H. Kuchel by John J. Campbell, executive officer of the state franchise tax board.

The history of the stepped up activity on the part of the franchise tax board goes back some years to the time when the board was a board virtually in name only, and the authority for operations of the division was in the hands of a franchise tax commissioner.

As the result of some dissatisfaction with the activities of the commissioner, several different investigations were started, and a number of practices uncovered, including the fact that employees were taking outside tax accounts for servicing. This resulted in legislation completely renovating the board, abolishing the position of commissioner and setting up more stringent rules and regulations for collections.

More Members

Added staff under Campbell was put to work rounding up tax evaders, and some months ago, Campbell and Kuchel announced that approximately 100,000 persons in California who should have filed income tax returns to the state had failed to do so.

Kuchel at that time promised a follow-up, which has been carried out. The board actually sent demands to 99,239 persons whose names were secured from payrolls and other sources, wanting to know how come state income tax returns were not filed, in view of their earnings.

The comparative figures are interesting, in that they show what can be done through sound administrative practices. For the entire year of 1948, $383,146 was returned to the treasury, and for 1947, the return totaled $342,126.55. Yet this year, with the stepped up activity, Kuchel expects a million dollar return.

Comparisons

Not only are the comparisons of the totals interesting, but the returns up to August 31 indicate that the increased activity on the part of the board is paying off. On the 1948 returns, the board had checked 18,818 returns as of that date, and collected $28,354.15. As of August 31 this year, 31,811 returns had been checked, with the return of $347,895.79 noted.

Most of the delinquent returns, Kuchel pointed out, were delinquent through lack of knowledge on the part of persons who should have filed, rather than deliberate attempts to evade the state's income tax laws.

The Sacramento Scene

(CNS)—The growing number of tax exemptions on property throughout the state was emphasized in a report made by the State Board of Equalization, which announced that for 1951, the total was more than three-quarters of a billion dollars, or to be exact, $765,339,122.

The 1951 exemptions, the board said, totaled $110,000,000 more than the previous year, with the majority of the increase the result of World War II veterans applying for the $1,000 property exemptions granted by the state to all veterans.

Approximately 700,000 veterans have property exemptions totalling $584,299,727; church property which is not taxed was valued at $82,776,980; private colleges, $42,394,000; and welfare institutions, $55,868,000. All of the exemptions are authorized in the state constitution and the total does not include the $100 personal property exemption allowed every citizen.

EXECUTIVE:

While Governor Warren remained in the east, officials at the state capitol were preparing his new offices in the Capitol Annex. Although the offices will not have the gold door knobs which originally were called for in the plans and cancelled in the belief they might be slightly pretentious, a total of $68,000 worth of furniture was moved into the suite, including a huge walnut desk measuring four by ten feet, which set the taxpayers back $1,523. In the Governor's office also are twelve leather upholstered armchairs, a leather swivel chair and other accoutrements properly befitting the state's chief executive while carpets for the suite weigh nearly two tons, and cost from $11 to $17 a square yard. The furniture plum went to the M. G. West Company, distributors of office furniture.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

As unemployment insurance claims continued about even, but still at the lowest level in years, California employers are preparing to pay between forty-five and fifty million dollars into the state's unemployment insurance fund as third quarter payroll taxes. The amount expected is a decrease from $53 million paid for the second quarter, principally because many employees have passed the $3,000 limit on which the payroll tax is paid.

SEQUOIA GIGANTIOUS:

The State Department of Natural Resources is looking for all of the private groves of giant sequoias in the state, in line with a directive from the state legislature, asking that these groves of slowly disappearing trees can be classified with a view to ultimate acquisition and preservation of this race of the oldest living things. Many of the groves, the department says, are being lost.

Community Chest Campaign Chairman Explains Purpose Of Annual Drive

October 1, 1951
Editor, The Record
3317 San Jose Avenue
Daly City, California
Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

Your paper has consistently urged its readers to unite in an all out effort to accomplish results that will be of benefit to all of the people in our community. You have given generously of space in The Record for many good causes, hence this letter through you to all of the people of greater Daly City, Westlake, Colma, Broadmoor and Garden Village.

Between now and October 14th, we will be hearing a great deal about America's Number 1 cause, "The Community Chest." The Number 1 citizen will be "The Volunteer Worker for the Community Chest."

It has been a general complaint that we are asked to give of our money and our time to all together too many drives for this cause or that. I feel as many others do that such a complaint is justified. But like the great majority of our citizens I recognize the fact that we should and must help one another, we can not live in a little world of our own with utter disregard for the welfare of our neighbors.

It is quite apparent that the Community Chest drive is the answer to the general complaint of too many drives. The Community Chest is National in scope, its purpose is to solicit voluntary contributions from all public spirited citizens. It serves as a clearing house and allocates the funds so collected to the numerous welfare organizations. The San Mateo County Community Chest has done a splendid job in our county supporting wholly or in part such organizations as the Children's Health Home, The Catholic Social Service Agency, The Young Men's Christian Association, The San Mateo County Blood Bank, Jewish Family Service Agency, Boy Scouts of America, Girl Scouts of America and the Visiting Nurse Association.

This year and for the first time in the history of the San Mateo County Community Chest, Greater Daly City, Westlake, Colma, Broadmoor and Garden Village have banded together as one unit working under the direction of the Local Red Feather Committee.

It is determined to make its goals its leaders or chairmen and chairmen are devoting countless hours of their time and energy to do a good job. We want to be able to say that the North end has done its share or more. There is an urgent need for volunteer workers in every district. Housewives who can ar will volunteer as little as an hour or two to this fine cause will definitely lighten the load on a of the other workers.

How can one volunteer? Simply place a call to one of the following telephone numbers: PLaza 4356, PLaza 5-6325 or PLaza 0322, state your name and address and tell us in which district you wish to work.

JOHN H. PRICE,
Campaign Chairman, Greater

Resident Strongly Objects To "Yes" Vote On Second Center Bond Issue

October 1, 1951

Dear Sirs:
I wish to express my opinion of that so called Community Center Building at Alp and Mission Streets.

If I remember right, we, the taxpayers, were to put up $295,000. Now, our politicians want $160,000 more.

Are the taxpayers going to be a bunch of dumb driven cattle? I am going to oppose it, and will vote "No" on the question.

The Community Center Building put me in mind of the San Francisco City Hall before the fire and earthquake of April 18, 1906. It was years building it, and never was finished. They were building the City Hall for years . . . to many politicians.

That is what is going on, now right here in Daly City. Why har money over to the politicians, and tell them they can have it?

There would be money in it taxpayers' pockets instead of going in deeper debts.

Your very truly,
Raymond DeNike

From A Corner

By Bill Katz

In our work we meet many snobs, but the most obnoxious are those who hold latin engraved union cards, better known as college diplomas.

This is not to say every college graduate is a snob. With numerous diplomas handed out each year, and the law of averages being what it is, this would make a good percentage of our population more snobbish than it could afford.

Fortunately, the majority of grads realize they have enjoyed four or six years of relative peace and quiet in secluded surroundings. After leaving school, they are willing to work with the rest of the "peasants."

Signs

We realize quite a lengthy treatise was published recently in a national magazine on the snob, but just for the record here is our guide to the "sheep skin snob":

1. In any introduction, after the first few words have been exchanged, our monster pops up with: "And what college did you attend?" He has learned to be a pretty fair judge of those who obviously haven't enjoyed four years of relief in school, and poses this question only when it must be answered negatively.

2. The more subtle college snob soon turns the conversation to a discussion of the "Ivy League." When the uninitiated takes the bait, and launches into a display of erudition about football, the donkey brays about the year he was at Compton Custard, and "Which of your college years did Old Siwash come through with a win?" The victim, who never saw the inside of a lecture hall, has to admit he's judged the Ivy League from the sports pages.

Fine Student

3. The real student of educational snobism makes it a point to thoroughly explore the writings of one ancient Greek writer. He soon turns any conversation to early Greece, and launches a prepared talk on the relative value of the Greek drama to modern play writers. Our friend, who has never been to college, is stunned, and immediately concludes every college graduate is an authority on Greek.

4. Finally, there is the lad lassie who not only sneezes through college, but in the process managed to join a sorority or fraternity. Confronted with a acquaintance, our double barreled snob fires away with chatty conversation concerning the college campus and the year his fraternity drained the freshman pond. Th completely puzzles the novice, a only a fraternity man could enjoy getting soaked to the skin floating around in a pond looking for a plug.

More Signs

There are many more signs of this breed. But what is worse the sucker who takes the line He's the poor goat who never enjoyed a college education and for some strange reason feels inferior He's the perfect victim for the college snob.

We find the best way to count in this game of making another person feel uncomfortable is to forget all about education. Simply go ahead and read a few books listen to a few number of informative radio programs, even take a squirt at TV; and more in portance, take an active interest in the world.

Visit

At about this stage pay a visit to a large library. Stand in the middle of the room, look at the books which represent the knowledge of man from time eternal recognize no man can possibly grasp one small part of this collected knowledge; and then simply spit in the college snob's eye.

The man who brags about education is the ignorant man, for he's failed to learn the one lesson a college can teach . . . more I know, the less I know. Unfortunately, this simple lesson will never be grasped by the college snob, or any other variety of the species. And that, dear reader, why we'll continue to have snob ignorance, intolerance and wars.

Department has found, are on private property but located in the boundaries of national parks.

CLOSING HOURS:

Most state offices fell into line with a legislative bill which permits them to close all day Saturday, with only a few of the emergency offices planning to maintain some kind of a staff on the morning of the last day of the week. These offices have closed, with the exception of a skeleton crew, for many years on Saturday mornings, and the departments have "conditioned" the public into transacting its business with the state during the week. Now full closing is legal and even the Department of Motor Vehicles, which has offices all through the state, will shut up shop Saturdays beginning November 3.

INCOME TAXES:

The State Franchise Tax Board for the past several months has engaged in a campaign to draw in tax payments from people who failed to make state income tax returns, and recently reported on its efforts. Out of 100,000 persons suspected of having failed to file a return, the Board has checked a third, and has obtained payments of nearly $350,000 in delinquencies. State Controller Thomas H. Kuchel, who heads the Board, expects the payments to total a million dollars for the year.

AGRICULTURE:

Marketing orders for head lettuce and extracted honey have been issued by the State Director of Agriculture, and are waiting assents of growers and producers to go into effect.

ADULT EDUCATION:

The Senate Interim Committee on Adult Education, headed by Senator Harold T. Johnson of Roseville, plans to get to the core of the controversy over this subject, through questions as to what agencies should stand some of the expenses of the program, and also as to whether or not the adult program is withholding some educational advantages from the youth of the state.

PERSONNEL:

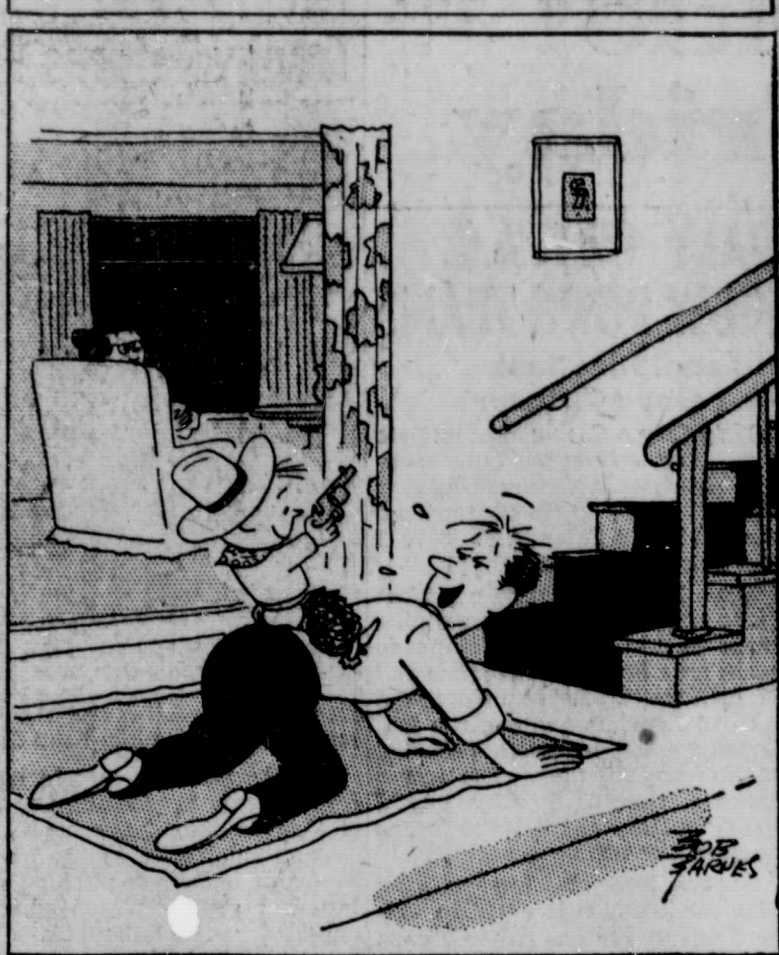

Two primary battles over state personnel are scheduled for the near future, with protests filed on the firing of E. C. Copeland, head of the blind training center in Oakland, and Dr. Walter Bromberg, director of clinical services at Mendocino State Hospital. In the Copeland fracas, the state is charging the blind center head used his office to buy and sell materials, and the hearings are likely to bring some top state employees into the picture before they are over, unless some fancy foot-work prevents these names from becoming an issue. Firing of Bromberg before he completed his probationary period has opened up the question asking department as to the conduct of the State Department of Mental Hygiene.

HERE AND THERE:

Suggestions have been made to the Assembly Interim Committee on Municipal and County Government that "area tax zones" could provide one answer to the battle between cities and counties over the taxation of urban areas outside of incorporated cities for the payment of city services; state to open new livestock and poultry pathology laboratory near Fresno; polio cases hit 155 during week, and remain at top of communicable disease list; Governor will fill many state jobs created by 1951 legislature when he returns from east, and also plans new director of public works; motorists paid $13,448,668 net as gasoline taxes in July, on a total of 328,287,808 gallons of gasoline and other taxable fuel; liquor tax payments for July totaled $1,321,947, which was 42 per cent below corresponding month last year; Carmar Zimmerman, new state librarian, in her first publicity release, announced National Library Day October 4; Veterans Affairs announced 7,561 World War II veterans have taken advantage of the state's assistance program in education, to the tune of $1,702,694 for the spring term; narcotics costs to users in California set at a billion dollars a year by Assembly Interim Committee investigating dope; Senator Randolph Collier, Yreka, advised county supervisors it would take 33 years to correct 1950 highway deficiencies, and that less than half enough money will be produced by 1962 to start meeting these deficiencies; blame for relief chiseling was placed on county welfare departments by Charles I. Schottland, State Director of Social Welfare in a speech made before supervisors association meeting in Santa Cruz.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

Employ Handicap Week Proclaimed

The shortage of skilled manpower throughout the nation has given disabled veterans and other physically handicapped persons a more important place in the economic life of the nation and of the community, it was pointed out today by Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer, San Mateo County, in calling attention to the seventh annual observance of National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week.

NEPH Week this year has been proclaimed for October 7-13, with special committees taking the lead on a national, a state and a local basis in bringing to the attention of employers the advantages of hiring handicapped workers for suitable jobs.

The ranks of the employable handicapped now include some veterans disabled by military service in Korea, Granger pointed out.

"World War II veterans, hundreds of thousands of whom have undergone rehabilitation training, have been in the forefront of the handicapped workers who have contributed heavily to the national defense production effort," he added. "The same training opportunity is now available to veterans disabled in the Korean fighting. Many of them are ready right now to take or resume their place in the ranks of wage-earning taxpayers."

Handicapped workers have been proved by repeated surveys to excel in many qualities important to employers, Granger added. They consistently rank high in adaptability, regularity, efficiency and diligence.

Granger is a member of the committee which is sponsoring NEPH Week in San Mateo County.

Try Protective Driving Today

How often do you get caught in a traffic jam? It's annoying to have to wait until the cars ahead get moving so you can proceed.

The California State Automobile Association points out that while the number of cars is increasing constantly, the street and roadway situation is not keeping pace. The result is that you, as the owner and driver of an automobile, have less and less space in which to maneuver your car over city streets and crowded highways.

The answer is protective driving, which means protecting yourself by paying close attention to traffic regulations; protecting the other drivers by being courteous and yielding the right-of-way when in doubt; protecting pedestrians by keeping your car under control so you can stop quickly in an emergency; and protecting your family by driving sensibly at all times.

Protective driving protects your pocketbook, too. Bent fenders and scratched paint are no joke when it comes to paying the repair bill.

Protective driving is careful driving, at a pace that is suited to traffic conditions, observing all traffic regulations, with your mind and body fully alert and ready to act quickly in any emergency.

Indians To Tackle Santa Cruz II Friday

Frosh-Soph Gridders; 110 and 120 Basketball Teams Begin League Play

Drawing a bye in the first week of PCL grid competition, the Jefferson Indians will travel to Santa Cruz Friday, October 5 to meet Santa Cruz high school at 8 p.m.

While all other PCL teams jump into league competition, Coach Glenn South, confronted by a practice game, can work on deficiencies in the Indians' line up.

Last Friday, September 28, Mountain View High school defeated the Jeffersonians in a practice tilt 27-16. The passing of Marv Fiorini, Mt. View, who accounted for three aerial TD's, was the deciding factor in the contest.

All week Coach South has been working on pass defense, realizing this is one of the Indians main shortcomings at the present time. Afternoon practices with much time devoted to tackling fundamentals indicate that the team's tackling on the whole is weak.

Although South was quick to note the team's faults, he was very pleased with the team's spirit. "With a couple of games under our belt we should be a pretty good ball club," he stated.

He did mention, however, that the ends need work in the pass receiving department. In the Mt. View encounter, the ends dropped 8 of Don Espinoza's passes in a row.

Espinoza's passes were hitting the mark, but they slipped through the ends' hands. Harold Hazen, veteran end and co-captain, failed to play because of illness.

Except for Norman Cady, defensive line backer, the team is up to full strength. Cady injured his ankle in the Mt. View game and will be sidelined for a week.

Ray Tschirgi will handle the linebacking assignment, with Charles Tienken taking over the left half defensive position.

The Indians will meet San Jose High School on home grounds on Columbus Day, October 12, in their first league game.

FROSH-SOPH FOOTBALL

Practice games and the return of seven lettermen indicate that Coach Joe McGrath has a fairly good ball club this season.

McGrath's Paposes defeated the Washington High School, San Francisco, junior varsity 7-6, and took Balboa High school's sophomore team 12-6.

The paposes have a good passer in Omar Grimes and speed in Grimes and right half Bill Butler. The line with four veterans should afford rugged competition.

McGrath's squad meets Burlingame High School at Burlingame on Thursday, October 11 in a league game.

BASKETBALL

Mike Orlich's 110 and 120 basketball squads will meet San Mateo on the latter's home court on Thursday, October 11, in their second league game. The score of the first contest played Thursday, October 4, against Capuchino was too late for publication.

In practice tilts the 110's finished with five losses and one win, while the 120's took four contests and dropped two. Throughout the practice season Coach Orlich concentrated on using reserves in order to develop a well rounded ball club.

The 110 first string lineup as it now stands is: Bill Etorch, f.; Dick Kalin, f.; Al Figone, c.; Rich Watson, g.; and Cliff Lawson, g.

Starting team for the 120's is Jerry With, f.; Jack Plunkett, f.; Leo Villar, c.; Tom Costello, g.; and Al Lagomarsino, g.

DEFECTIVE SPARK PLUGS

Defective spark plugs can cause excessive crankcase dilution by misfiring, thus causing raw gasoline to drain into the crankcase from the combustion chamber, according to the California State Automobile Association. It is always advisable to replace spark plugs in sets rather than one at a time. Spark plugs may become defective and lose efficiency after 8,000 or more miles of service.

Domenic Lensini Bowls 258 Score

Kegler Domenic Lensini, Lombardi's Auto Service, racked up the high game of the week, 258, in the Daly City-Colma Merchants Bowling league.

With the league entering its fourth week, The Daly City-Colma Lions Club is on top followed by the Central Club and College Hill Market, which are tied for second.

The remaining teams in order are: Fraternal Order of Eagles, Brisbane Lion's Club, Foresters of America, Lombardi Service, and Thur Meat Co.

DALY CITY A.C. MOW DOWN TEAMS

Local Nine Seek A Good Sponsor

Daly City A.C., managed by Pete Lucia, is currently seeking a sponsor. In their last two encounters, backed up by excellent pitching, they defeated Satan A.C. 10 to 1 and Teisen Glass 8 to 0.

Dave Melinoff pitched a perfect game against Teisen glass wiping them out in all departments to chalk up a no-hit no run game and 17 strikeouts. Reyes held Satan A.C. to five hits and one run last Sunday while his team collected 14 hits and 10 runs. The scores indicate that Daly City has a strong battery and is by no means week in the hitting department.

Anyone interested in sponsoring Pete Lucia's club is asked to contact him at 290 Los Banos, PLaza 5-5668.

Vince and Fred's Liquors lost to Pomona Tile last Sunday 11-7. Bruno Della Libera, returning to action after a six week layoff, allowed 13 hits. Chuck Donley got three hits in four times at bat for the losers. The team will enter the Golden Gate Winter league, Class AA.

Brilliant three hit pitching by Babe Ottenello gave Sarto AC a close 2-1 victory over Alameda Coast Guard Sunday. Pfender and Sims accounted for four of the victor's six hits. Sarto AC will begin action in the San Mateo Winter league Sunday, October 7, meeting New Pisa at Marchbanks Park at 2 p.m.

Police Force Changes Made

Moving ahead with plans for reorganization of the local police force, the city council, at a caucus meeting Monday night, appointed Sgt. Roy Beecher as acting police inspector.

Sgt. Beecher has been filling this job for the past three weeks, and also has done duty as a plainclothesman.

The reorganization was prompted by an ultimatum of District Attorney Louis Dematteis to the city council to "clean up Daly City."

At their regular meeting Monday night the council is expected to appoint two new officers to the force. They will be: Albert Conci, 34, 89 88th Street; and John Coleman, 27, 200 Vista Grande. This will be in line with a policy to increase the efficiency of the force by hiring more men for better coverage of the Daly City area.

SVEN IS CHARGED WITH DISTURBANCE

Charges of disturbing the peace and being drunk in a public place were filed against Sven Youngquist Monday at the Daly City police station as the aftermath of a series of altercations with his landlady, Mrs. E. Collins, 467 Irvington street.

His bail was set at $100 cash and $200 bond by Judge Sweeney. Mrs. Collins first called local officers around 7:45 p.m. Monday regarding Youngquist and when they called at her residence she reported that her tenant was using foul language, thereby causing her to be upset. At that time he agreed to leave the premises.

However, according to Mrs. Collins' statement to police later that same evening, Youngquist had returned around 8:15 p.m. and kicked out the window in the front door, broke the hinge off the refrigerator door and scattered the refrigerator contents on the floor. He was apprehended as he was walking along a Daly City street and brought to the police station.

A variety of traditional band music will be played, in addition to a selection of waltzes, musical comedy numbers, and a symphonic arrangement. On the whole, there will be music to please any taste. Fireman, Fireman Keep That Axe; Trophy Returns To Company No. 4

THE RETURN OF THE COVETED fireman's axe by Fire Chief Lodi of Redwood City was caught in this photograph taken at the recent Firemen's Picnic. Receiving the long lost axe is Jimmy Walsh, president of the Daly City Veteran Fireman's Association. Looking on is Captain Fred Mather of Company No. 4.

The fireman's axe was home today, securely in place on the wall of Company No. 4 fire house.

Traditional prize in the annual fireman's horseshoe pitching contest, the chrome plated axe disappeared six months before the August picnic. There was a general gnashing of teeth and tearing of hair, as local hose hoisters envisioned loss of a coveted prize.

There was even some talk of calling off the horse shoe contest. Then the miracle occurred... the day of the picnic Fire Chief Lodi of Redwood City appeared, axe in hand.

Softball Tourney Colma Firemen Prove Red Hot Winners In Recreation League

by Harry Aronson

The evening of September 26 brought together Club 21 and the Colma Firemen to decide the champions of the Second Daly City Recreation Softball League.

With Lou Drago on the mound for Club 21 acting like a cousin, the Firemen were gifted with 3 runs in the initial frame and were on their way to victory. The issue was never in doubt as Drago, wild and unable to find the plate, walked 7 Firemen in the first inning and was unable to recover his wildness.

In the second inning the Firemen slammed out four hits and scored as many runs, then added 4 more runs in the third to take a commanding 11 to 0 lead. Two more runs in the six inning brought the total to 13 and the championship for the Firemen.

Firemen pitcher Sorenson handcuffed the usually hard hitting Club 21 team by giving up three little singles. Left fielder, Kirschner turned in his best game of the season when he hit three for three to take batting honors for the victorious Firemen. Masini and Pedemonte followed Kirschner with two hits to their credit. Lou Nannini circled the bases in the second inning for a round tripper, and Huston smashed a triple in the 3rd frame.

Club 21, held scoreless for five innings finally scored one in the sixth and added three more runs in the seventh to save themselves from a shutout.

Meanwhile, Club 21 defeated the Early American Paint Co. 5 to 1 on September 25, the game went five innings and was called on account of darkness.

R. Chelone and A. Chelone collected two hits apiece to lead Club 21 to victory. Jack Morgan clouted a four bagger in the third inning to aid the 21 team in the scoring column. Early American Paint was held to three singles by Lou Drago, 21 hurler.

The Colma Firemen moved into a play-off game with Club 21 when they delt Mercury Plumbers a stinging defeat by a 3 to 2 count on diamond No. 1.

By mutual agreement, Larry Shaw, Mercury manager and K. Galleon, Firemen skipper, the game was scheduled for five innings. The Firemen playing their usual peppy game proved their ability to see in the dark, and staved off a last ditch rally by the Mercury team. With two on and two out in the first half of the fifth frame, Tom Tromborg Mercury's fleet fielder, grounded out to second baseman Gianni who smothered the ball and threw to first baseman Kennedy for the big third out.

Hank Suelzle paced the Plumbers with a triple and a single while Masini was the big gun for the Firemen collecting a triple and a single in three times at bat.

Geo. Morrison, Mercury pitcher, limited the Firemen to five hits, and Sorenson, Fireman chucker, gave up six safeties to the losers.

Final Standings
1st—Colma Firemen
2nd—Club 21
3rd—Mercury Plumbers
4th—Early American Paint Co.

WINDBREAKERS SMASH SEAHAWKS

Brilliant Passing Accounts For 37-7 Win

Brilliant passing by Robbie Barbetti, who accounted for two touchdowns and set up a third one, sparked the South City Windbreakers to a 37-7 win over the Santa Cruz Seahawks at Santa Cruz last Sunday.

Barbetti, hitting for 6 of 9 passing attempts, amassed a total of 160 yards in the air.

The first score came early in the second period when Barbetti passed to Aldo DeTomas. DeTomas took the ball in the flat and scampered the remaining 25 yards for a touchdown.

Three minutes later, Barbetti, standing on the 16 yard line, hit Bill McCormick in the end zone for 6 more points.

Before the half, Barbetti hurled for 51 yards to Bob Hamilton on the eleven yard stripe. From there Bill Botief packed it over.

The last Windbreaker score came with less than a minute to play. Line Backer Joe Avelar intercepted a Sea Hawk pass on the midfield stripe and rambled through the opposition for another tally.

A 19 yard pass on fourth down from Jack Scofield to Bob Seymour was accountable for the only Sea Hawk T.D.

Leading ground gainer of the day was Bob Hamilton with an 82 yard total in 10 carries.

The Windbreakers netted 402 yards rushing and passing, while the Seahawks were held to 46 net yards.

Sunday, the Windbreakers meet the Oakland Rams at Hunter Field in South San Francisco.

SIINO SOCKS FIFTY-ONE SHARKS

Horace Siino, 169 Irvington street, Daly City, landed 51 sharks in the San Mateo shark derby last Sunday, to break the record for the most sharks caught by an individual.

Held at Coyote Point, San Mateo, 1623 fishermen hauled 2,606 sharks out of San Francisco Bay for a new record during the fifth annual running of the event.

The previous record, set last year, was 1406 fishermen and 2441 sharks.

The most amazing catch of the day was turned in by 7-year-old John Miller, Petaluma, who hooked into a shark weighing 51 1/2 pounds and only 3 pounds less than himself. His father helped him land the fish.

John was awarded the Princefisher crown and approximately $200 in prizes.

The largest shark of the event was caught by Jerry Scheller, of San Carlos. The fish weighed 64 pounds.

James Tomasello, San Francisco, received the surprise of the day when he hauled in a three pound leopard shark with a set of false teeth caught in the sharks jaw.
